A black and white photograph of a beach scene. In the foreground, the water is rippled. In the middle ground, several people are swimming and surfing. Some are on their backs, some are on their stomachs. In the background, the ocean waves are breaking. The sky is not visible.

A True Friend

When things go wrong so nothing's right
And you wish it all would end,
Remember that you'll always have a true and loving friend
You know I'm always willing and I'll always be around
To try to give a little help when things have got you down
No one's born a loser, and no one always wins
So try to make the best of things till better times begin.
If I could make you happy, I'd try, you know I would
To turn dark nights to shining days and all the bad to good
But all I can do is be here whenever you're in doubt
And do the things a friend is for to try to help you out.
Cause even when you're mad at me you know I'll always care and anytime you give the word you know that I'll be there
I love you more than these few words could ever let you know.
And I'm the one who'd cry the most if ever you should go.
I promise if you'll stay with me at least a little while
I'll do my best in everything, just to see you smile
So don't feel bad about today, tomorrow's still to come
And life will be much better after yesterday is gone
I know that words don't mean much but I really am sincere
When I tell you that no matter what this friend will still be here.

DEDICATION

We, the class of 1975, dedicate our yearbook to the cause of world wide peace and universal brotherhood. It is our hope and our dream that, in the words of Abraham Lincoln, there will someday be "... malice towards none and justice for all." We pray too, that one day soon the dream of Martin Luther King will be realized.

"... I have a dream that one day on the red hills of Georgia the sons of former slaves and the sons of former slave owners will be able to sit down together at the table of brotherhood. ... I have a dream that my four little children will one day live in a nation where they will not be judged by the color of their skin, but by the content of their character. I have a dream today that. ... little black boys and little black girls will be able to join hands with little white boys and little white girls and walk together as sisters and brothers. I have a dream today.

This is our hope. This is the faith with which I return to the South. ... With this faith we will be able to walk together, to pray together, to struggle together. ... to stand up for freedom together, knowing that we will be free one day.

And if America is to be a great nation this must become true."

To the Class of 1975:

What a warm, comforting, inspirational theme the largest class to ever graduate from Abington High School has chosen for its yearbook- Friends. With magnanimous joy you embrace all your classmates with the word, Friend. It would be almost miraculous if this phenomenon could be true. What is a friend; to whom should this title be given?

To address somebody as friend requires considerable knowledge of the individual. You must have pride for their strengths and compassion for their weaknesses, true joy for their success and sorrow for their failures. Friendship is a lasting, generous quality, not a cloak easily put on or quickly discarded. Friendship grows with time, knowledge and understanding. Friendship germinates slowly, carefully and with a degree of caution. Friendship is a giving of one's self with no thought of recompense. To have a friend is a rewarding experience.

Graduates, you will meet and enjoy countless acquaintances and associates and I fondly hope that you will have a few friends but more important that a few people will call you a friend.

May some small success reward your every endeavor.

Sincerely,
John A. Murray
Principal

It has been a very quick four years, and I really do not know how to express my feelings for all of you, either as a class, or as individuals. My emotions are not visible on the surface, and are seldom seen during the times of happiness and distress we have all shared as a class. I wish that all of you could know the sentiments I have felt, after seeing you share a bit of yourselves not only with me, but with many others in our class as well. Being part of a class is one thing, but taking the time to help and show others the way and being proud of it, is so much more.

I have enjoyed serving you as president for the past three years, and my hopes of our coming together have been realized. We have all enjoyed our parties, dances, meetings, rallies and other meaningful activities, but most of all, we have enjoyed seeing one another grow and change into young adults, in accepting difficult but meaningful responsibilities. I have tried to show you all individually a part of myself, and I hope you have accepted me as I am. I have no regrets in what I have done, but only wish I could do it again. Mentally and emotionally, I cannot yet accept being the first one to say good-bye. I pray to God that you all find your happiness in life, and always remember me as I was.

Good Luck & God Bless,

Kevin Densmore

EDITORS' MESSAGE

During our four years of high school, we have all formed many relationships, some lasting, and some which will soon be terminated with the coming of graduation. We will all be pursuing new and different directions. Yet we have all, for a time, made friends and friendships which we will never forget and always be thankful for; for who can be happy in life without a friend?

Thinking about our high school years, we realize that friends and companions are the most valuable possessions we have. Through friendships we have learned how to work with others harmoniously, toward a common goal. We have gained invaluable experience about people through our friendships. So after realizing just how important a part friends play in each and everyone's lives, we chose "FRIENDS" as the theme for our yearbook. We worked together on it, as friends. It is ours, and it is a pictorial history of our days at Abington High. It reflects the good times, bad times, classes, studies, rallies, and "friends" which we have shared in high school. With time, some of the high moments of our school years will fade, but, through this yearbook, we hope to enable you to preserve the never-to-be-forgotten past.

CAMILLA LARSSON

Camilla Larsson, an only child, lives in Ängelholm, Sweden. She is interested in swimming, cooking, animals, in addition to playing the piano, and the guitar. In Sweden, she belongs to a music club and a swimming organization, and her favorite subjects are math and languages. Camilla wanted to come to the United States to form her own opinion of our country by meeting people and observing how the ways of life here are different from her own country of Sweden. She has discovered that life here is much the same as it is in Sweden. She feels that she has a good impression of the United States and its people, yet regrets that she will not see everything she wants to in only one year.

KATARINA REHN

The oldest of three children, Katarina Rehn has two younger brothers, ages 14 and 17. Her favorite subjects are physics, math and gym, and she spends her spare time swimming, sailing, and skiing. She chose to come here as she wished to do something different, to be able to learn more about another country better than she could as a tourist, to be more independent, and to learn the English language. She has found that American and Swedish people are not very different. Katarina is enjoying her stay here very much and knows she will miss everything here when she leaves. Though she loves Sweden, she believes the United States is a fantastic country.

Class

Freshman Year

Teddy Bears in arms, and with sweat on our palms,
We headed for the high school, not the least bit calm.
To guide us through this trying time
Doug, Carol, Terri, and Angela got us by just fine.
We got a name, we became well known,
But when the walk-out came, we were left alone.
Our class jackets left much to be desired,
Even the emblem could not be admired.
We received them one April, during a shower,
And in spite of our pride, they were ripped in an hour.
In health class we learned about the birds and bees,
Miss Crooks had to teach us, though ill at ease.
The time had come for our first high school dance,
Innocent and excited, we were taking a chance,
For upperclassmen seemed not the same,
To act like them would be our aim.
At the School-A-Baloo, Kit and Ellen were hazed,
We wanted to rescue them, but stood amazed.
Due to the rains that were pouring down,
Our first class outing never got off the ground.
As our first year ended and summer came,
We soon would return to develop our fame.

Sophomore Year

Returning to homerooms, the same as before,
Wondering what it's like to be a Soph-O-More.
With officers Kevin, Barbara, Colleen and Terri,
The year of '72 promised to be a bit more merry.
At the rally when the cheerleaders yelled,
"Come on let's hear it!"

Our sophomore class showed the most spirit.
But the seniors won the trophy by tradition,
And second place was our only recognition.
We took a trip we'll never forget
To see Christmas lights at La Sallette,
Our memorable night ended with a bang,
As our bus spun into a green Mustang.
This was the year of false alarms,
The culprit was found with two blue palms.
At the Sadie Hawkins Dance, the girls did treat,
The best part of all was going out to eat.
In March we emerged as proud as could be,
Waving our rings for all to see.
The jukebox came, and we were glad,
Freaking out in the cafe became a fad.
We could hardly wait to return in the fall,
To become upperclassmen, proud and tall.

History

Junior Year

Rid of the second floor, once and for all,
We finally moved up to the junior-senior hall.
After two years of waiting, upperclassmen at last
We had much to do and oh, so fast.
Kevin, Kit, Darlene and Terri led us on
To help us prepare for our Junior Prom.
Working together, decorating our hall,
We proved to be the best class of all.
Much to the seniors utter dismay,
With "our" trophy we strutted away.
We all got together for a spaghetti sup
We knew of success, when we had lots to clean up.
In March we said "Aloha" to the band,
And they went off to play on Hawaiian sand.
"We May Never Pass This Way Again" was our prom theme,
The court was chosen, with Darlene as queen.
We ended this year with hopes and dreams
Of what being a senior really means.

Senior Year

With many fond memories of our three years past,
September returned, and we were seniors at last.
As far as class officers, nothing was new,
Because leaders like them are rare and few.
Taking SAT's proved quite a chore,
Nothing could beat that Saturday bore.
Our class pictures were taken, we were all dressed in style,
To hear a strange man say, "Gimme that smile!"
Cannibals Mark and Jim gave us our best rally,
Winning the trophy proved to be the Grand Finale.
Our Field Hockey team was Number One,
Without Miss Crooks it could not have been done.
Dirty cars were our only reliance,
When we held our car wash at Nickerson's Appliance.
After too many years of starving 'til lunch
We finally produced a program of brunch.
Although in a new league, led by a new coach,
We opened our football season with a traditional approach,
We first beat Rockland, our all-time rival.
Our winning record proves the Green Wave's revival.
"Rest Assured" was the name of our senior class play,
With Mr. Trenouth leading the way.
We planned our reception for the seventh of June,
We hope to be sober for graduation at noon.
And so it was...the end is here,
Now we are leaving, with many a tear.

Who hit a homerun?

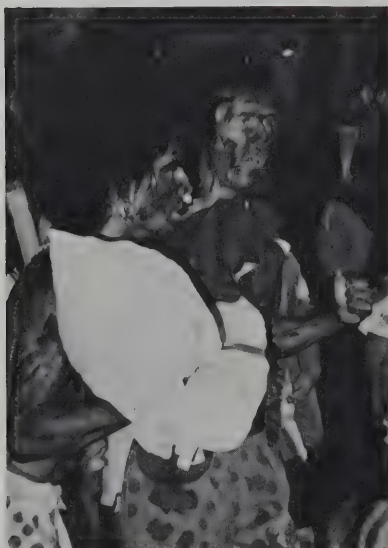

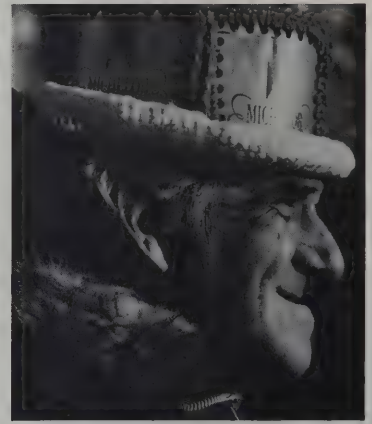

What was that play again?

Sleeping, Mr. Nash?

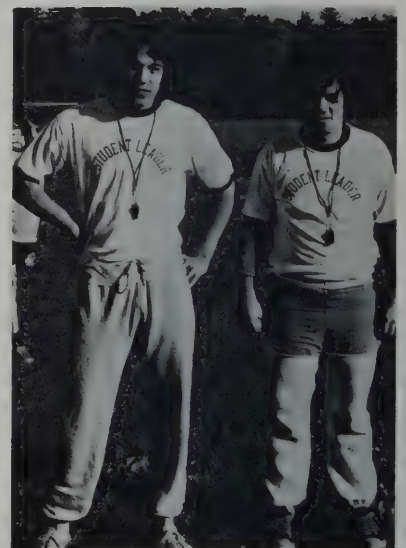

I know there's an energy crisis, but this is ridiculous.

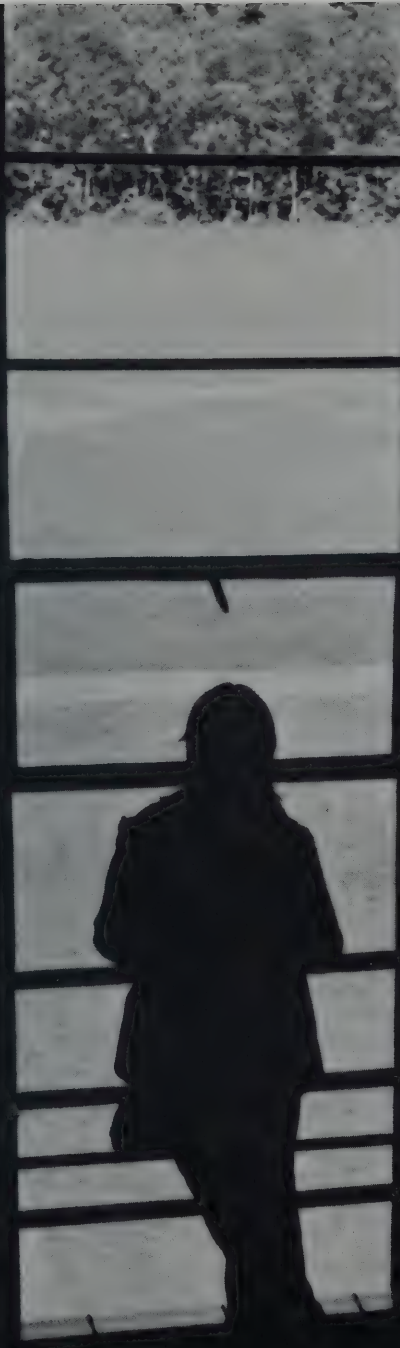

Who's for dinner?

Lose your skirts, girls?

We're just hard guys.

FRIENDS . . .

In a changing world filled with confusion

There are those whose friendship I value more than any other prize.

I never realized this was so until I knew

That I would soon see those people for the very last time.

When I am lonely, when tears are very near,

I think of them.

I recall the laughter

And all the beautiful moments

Which are bittersweet as memories

Memories . . .

They will tear my heart,

But they will be the most beautiful pain

That I shall ever know.

And I shall content myself with this knowledge:

Somewhere in the universe

My soul will be rejoined with those it loved.

Class

1. We leave never forgetting Mr. Currant's smile, even on a Monday morning.
2. Kim and Karen leave the majorettes with their antique uniforms falling apart thread by thread by thread.
3. We leave Susan Evans a medal of courage for wearing a dress to school.
4. We leave Mrs. Rennie's vocabulary course acting supercilious, vociferous, and rude.
5. We leave Patti taking over Mr. Gregory's class teaching "B-A-BAY."
6. Dan Connors leaves a poster of his 18-inch biceps in the weight room for all to see.
7. We leave Donna Parnell's make-up to Bonnie Osborne.
8. The Senior band members leave Mr. Paul Smith our gratitude for all he has done for us. "Aloha."
9. Patty leaves the underclassmen girls without Glenn Martin.
10. Claire and Linda leave Mr. Trenouth a couple of boo's, a couple of yeah's, and a great big "Hip, Hip, Hooray."
11. We leave Mr. Hart a pair of binoculars to see better with.
12. The Senior boys leave singing to Dot... "We're dreaming of a white car, just like the one that Dottie owns."
13. We leave Barney McCarthy in Bedrock.
14. Carol and Linda leave Mr. Stone a soggy tent on a windy beach after the Northeaster hit.
15. We leave Millsie still trying to "figure it all out."
16. The Senior Class leaves Mrs. Branting many thanks for helping us make our spaghetti supper such a great success. We couldn't have done it without her.
17. We leave Kit still paranoid from her unwilling visit to the boys' locker room.
18. We leave Ms. DeYoung, by budgeting our time, one complete, grammatically correct, meat and potato sentence of thanks.
19. We leave stuffed animals to the first floor nursery.
20. The Senior class thanks Mrs. Phillips for a wonderful breakfast the morning after the Prom. (We're hoping for an instant replay on June 8th!!!)
21. We leave Jack Myers always "sticking out" in a crowd.
22. We leave Laura behind the shower curtain in the Hawaiian Inn saying, "Jeff, don't."
23. We leave our trophy for THE most school spirit, with the "Class of '75" engraved on it TWICE!!
24. Ad leaves Sue, Kathy, and Patti munching out at Pancake King after their very first Weight Watcher's meeting.
25. The Senior boys leave Kathy Lovell THINKING she's Chesty Morgan.
26. We leave Mrs. Millet still shopping at "Mr. Big, Mr. Tall."

Will

27. Debbie and Ellen finally leave without serving hours.
28. The Senior class leaves Mrs. Lind, never forgetting her friendly manner and warm personality.
29. We leave Mr. McAuliffe the picture of Kathy Rosebach's moon.
30. Jeanne, Liz, Ad, Karen, Sam, and Sue Ann leave Miss MacDonald 10 dozen tacos; hold the sauce.
31. We leave the Rockland cheerleaders still in amazement over our rally.
32. We leave Gnat and Danny in the front seat and Kit and Liz in the back seat, after the Prom, singing "Silence is Golden."
33. We leave Mr. Murray and Mrs. Johnstone still "in the bag."
34. Homeroom 305 leaves Mr. Byron still passing out yesterday's hearing and vision tests.
35. The Seniors leave Mrs. Beane a new wiggle, not a struggle.
36. Micky leaves thanks to Sue Ann for setting her on fire at the Beach Boy's Concert.
37. We leave Marilyn Boyajian the "Women's Heavyweight Championship of the World" title.
38. The Senior girls leave the Junior girls wishing their last names started with H through M so they could catch a glimpse of those big, baby blue eyes.
39. We leave Miss Murphy "strutting" down the third floor corridor.
40. We leave Coach Kelliher an impossible dream, that he'll ever have a team with as much potential and Senior Superstars as ours did.
41. The Senior Class leaves things "Definitely Row!"
42. The Varsity cheerleaders leave Mrs. Phillips many, many thanks for all the time and effort she has given us.
43. We leave Miss Tracey as a new comer, but a good friend.
44. Chris Wells leaves his role of Superstar to Neil Caldiera.
45. We leave the school lunches with their never ending variety.
46. We leave Patti Phillips a standing ovation for her 3 M.V.P.s.
47. We leave our favorite substitute, Miss Dwyer, a pair of bronzed crutches.
48. The 309 gang leaves Cindy Wales with no ride to the football games.
49. A certain few leave our tenth grade licenses to Michael Mackiewicz.
50. We leave Annette Ferland as "Miss Vogue Teenager."
51. The Senior Football Players leave having done the cheer, "Icky, Icky, Doo-Ah" at the Whitman Rally.
52. Finally, the Senior Class leaves Mr. Kent and Miss DeCilio all our thanks for the incredible job they did as our class advisors.

JANICE MARIE COOK

She loved, and was loved.
She gave herself, and no greater gift can be given.
Knowing her was a joy to be cherished forever.
Her memory will always be with us.

1975 MISS D.A.R. REPRESENTATIVE

Each year the senior class and faculty combine in choosing a senior girl with the qualities of leadership, dependability, patriotism and service. This year we are proud to have Elizabeth Clawson as our representative.

MISS ABINGTON 1975 DARLENE ANDERSON

Darlene Anderson was elected by the senior class to serve as this year's Miss Abington. Her prettiness and pleasing personality are just two of the many attributes she possesses which have won her the respect and admiration of all.

A SINGLE INDIVIDUAL

Doyster

A single individual stands there-Suspended in the blackness, on the battlefield of life.

Beseiged by his fears,
Pierced by his memories,
Bombarded by his doubts.

Nevertheless, he remains nearly undaunted
Shielded by his armour of self-control and his Visions of self-worth

Suddenly, the blackness envelopes him, And destroys his weapon, ego.
And the spectators at the battle witness the destruction
Of a man-
Who had the audacity. . . . .

To believe in himself. . . . .
